The Search for our Ancestors

Laura Stotler, AICP, serves the Glendale community as principal long- range planner in the Community Development Department. In her spare time she conducts extensive ancestor searches that have lead her to connections with her family's past. These ventures have taken her to the deep South and the Midwest, and in that quest she has become adept in genealogical studies.

She is a member of numerous genealogical organizations. Locally she belongs to the Southern California Genealogy Society in Burbank. Among her numerous connections with national organizations she belongs to the New England Historical Genealogy Society in Boston.

In the past genealogists depended on probing through dusty record books in libraries, courthouses, graveyards, etc.. In the computer era, however, ancestral research has been simplified by use of numerous on-line sites. Laura will talk about her own family discoveries as well as directing our members to family history sources in Glendale.

in other words, we are the hero of our own story."*

AAUW PUBLIC POLICY -- Nov.. 2013

NATIONAL: It appears that the agony of the National crisis on "ObamaCare" and the debt limit will pass tonight, that the government will "reopen", and other important issues will again be under discussion. Who can we thank for this astounding change of minds? Why! the Sisterhood of the Senate led by Sen. Susan Collins of Maine! Did you ever think that you would see the day when a group of outstanding women would come together in Congress to get this action? Cheers to all our women Senators. They should make us proud!

STATE: AAUW worked hard to pass and get signed Senate Bill 516: Regulation of Foreign Labor Contractors to Prevent Forced Labor and Human Trafficking. We read of this disgrace in the LA Times regarding sweat shops, sex trafficking and domestic help to mention a few areas affected. We hope that this bill will help put teeth in the prosecution of the perpetrators of these crimes against women.

A list of bills signed or vetoed by Gov. Brown can be found at:

Web sites for AAUW can be found on the last page of your handbook.

Please thank your Federal and State Representatives and Senators for working so hard on these important issues.

75 Year Member!

Congratulations to Glendale branch 75-year member, Mary Stelle Wagner, who now lives in Duarte.

Mary states she is doing well and she enjoys reading our branch newsletter.

Thanks to Mary for her monetary donation to our newsletter and for all her years of support.
