We are honored to welcome Louise Kirkbride as our keynote speaker for the afternoon.

Louise, a pioneer of computer technologies for customer service, was awarded a full scholarship to the California Institute of Technology (CalTech), where she was a member of the college's first class that included women in 1970.

She earned her bachelor's and master's degrees in electrical engineering from CalTech, all while waiting tables on campus to earn enough money to pay for books and supplies.
